- currently (18.12.2021), we offer two Sunday morning services, one at 9.00am and then again at 10.30am. Both services are delivered using appropriate covid precautions and both require the wearing of masks. Currently, singing is permitted at the later service when we join together at the altar rail for communion in two kinds through intinction. At 9.00am the elements are taken to pews individually and distributed through intinction
- the rota assumes that this pattern continues over the first months of 2022 but this is entirely dependent on the spread of virus and government and church advice.
- questions of time and place should be addressed to Deb before 16th January. During interregnum, such questions should be addressed to the churchwardens.
- details of readings are taken from the Redemptorist Blue Sheets up to the end of March. In April, they come from the Common Worship lectionary
